

AFROTC DET 010 UPDATE Jan 2021

Welcome back, cadets! It's the beginning of a new year and new semester, so I hope you're all well rested and refreshed because we have another busy semester in store for you. Please review announcements below. Several may not apply to you right now, but at the very least can give you a general idea of opportunities that may interest you and be available down the line.

Ongoing COVID-19 Pandemic

Reminder: we are still in the middle of a pandemic. Cadets will continue to wear face masks while in uniform and as directed by local and university guidelines. During LLAB, black face masks should be worn. All other detachment safety precautions are outlined in the Spring 2021 Detachment Operations and COVID-19 Guidelines Memorandum. In addition, for the safety of everyone, I highly recommend you refrain from participating in any large non-essential group gatherings. Any citations received in violation of local or university guidelines are considered civil involvements and must be reported to cadre. The latest university information regarding Spring 2021 COVID-19 policies and requirements can be found at <https://healthinfo.ua.edu/spring2021/>.

If you consent to the use of your photo and name on our social media or any other AFROTC marketing related material, please sign off on the counseling posted in WINGS. If you don't consent, please notify your AS instructor or any cadre member.

Protest Guidance

Social inequality/racial injustice protests are apolitical and nonpartisan, therefore Air Force members may attend and peacefully participate when not in uniform and no inference or appearance of official sponsorship, approval or endorsement can be reasonably drawn. However, as cadets and future Air Force officers, you are prohibited from participating in demonstrations when you are in uniform, when your activities constitute a breach of law and order, or when violence is likely to result. Members who violate this prohibition are subject to disciplinary action and/or drop/disenrollment from AFROTC. Please refer to attachments for additional information.

2021 Judge Advocate General (JAG) Program Application

The JAG Corps is seeking cadets/students interested in an education delay (ED), the Graduate Law Program (GLP), or One-Year College Program (OYCP). Please note, the JAG Corps does not award scholarships for these programs. Participants are responsible for the cost of their legal education.

- a. ED is a three-year program for officers commissioned through AFROTC who want to delay their entry into extended active duty in order to earn their law degree and join the JAG Corps.
- b. GLP is for first-year law students to participate in AFROTC for two years while in law school.
- c. OYCP is for second-year law students to participate in AFROTC for one year while in law school.

GLP/OYCP applicants must interview with a Detachment Commander before they submit their application to the JAG Corps. Application procedures, additional program details, and memorandum templates are attached. The application window for AFROTC JAG programs is open now. AFROTC cadets may apply at www.airforce.com/JAG. The online application deadline is 20 Jan 2021 and applicants must complete an interview with a Staff Judge Advocate (SJA) by 1 Feb 2021.

2021 JROTC Flight Academy

In coordination with JROTC, AFROTC is providing an opportunity for up to 20 cadets to gain valuable flight experiences. Please see list below for tentative flight school locations, and dates will be provided at a later time. Although similar to the AIM HIGH Flight Academy program, regarding design and outcome, this JROTC Flight Academy opportunity provides enough instruction for students to obtain their Private Pilot's License (PPL). While this event is available for all cadets to seek nomination, the preference is for POC with rated AFSC selections first, and POC applying for rated career fields second. To sign-up, contact Capt Brock by Fri, 22 Jan 21. Cadets MUST meet the following requirements to be eligible:

1. Must meet and maintain military/academic retention standards.
2. Must be a cadet in POC status and not in participating status IAW AFROTCI 36-2011.
3. Must have a rated AFSC selection or express interest in applying for a rated career fields.
4. Must not have previously obtained their PPL and must not have participated in other AFROTC flying programs that give cadets opportunities to fly aircraft (JROTC Flight Academy, USAFA SOAR, You Can Fly, etc.). The intent is to give cadets without previous flight experience an opportunity to earning their PPL.
5. Must return to school in Fall 2021 for at least one term.
6. Must be a cadet of the highest leadership caliber as they will be the AFROTC representative to groups of 5 to 20 high school cadets during the program.
7. Must weigh less than 250 lbs due to the size of the aircraft used during the program.

A list of the universities are listed below and are subject to change. The confirmed universities that will be sponsoring the program and program dates will be provided at a later date. The program will start as early as 14 May and go until Aug.

- Averett University, Danville, VA

- Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, OH

2021 Dental School Armed Forces Health Professions

The Dental Only Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program (AFHPSP) selection board will convene on 5 Mar 21. Application window is now open. The deadline for application submission is 8 Feb 21. AFROTC cadets who have been accepted or anticipate selection into Dental School beginning Summer/Fall 2021 may compete for the 2021 Dental School AFHPSP. Cadets must complete the items listed in attachment and submit the AFHPSP application to the following e-mail address: AFPC.DP2ND.GraduateDentalEdu@us.af.mil. Incomplete applications will not meet the selection board. AFROTC Cadets interested in applying for Dental School admission for a start in the Summer/Fall of 2021 should start preparing for Dental School applications the summer prior, as most Dental School application periods occur in the summertime, approximately one year prior to the intended start date. Interested cadets may contact the AF Dental Education Officer, Maj Helena Swank, at (210) 565-0645 or AFPC.DP2ND.GraduateDentalEdu@us.af.mil, for more information.
