The University of Alabama AFROTC Detachment 010
Commander’s Incentive Scholarship Award
Fall 2022

The University of Alabama AFROTC Incentive Scholarship is a financial needs-based scholarship to help offset the financial burden of pursuing a higher education. It is awarded to cadets who are enrolled in AFROTC in good standing with the intent to commission as an Air Force or Space Force officer.

The scholarship award amount may range between $500-3000 depending on available funds, and up to five cadets may be awarded the scholarship. Scholarship will be applied towards UA Fall 2022 tuition only.

In order to be eligible, cadets must be enrolled at the University of Alabama in AFROTC and meet the following criteria:

- Must be an AFROTC cadet with an “Active” status (not “Applicant”)
- Has met all minimum AFROTC requirements
- Not a current recipient of an AFROTC or UA merit-based scholarship
- Demonstrate a bona fide financial need for tuition assistance

To apply:

- Submit an official memorandum addressed to the Detachment Commander outlining your need for the scholarship, OR submit someone on their behalf
- Submit an AF1206 with at least two bullets of accomplishments as a cadet
- Optional: Include statements from others (wingmen, fellow cadets, etc) recommending applicant for the scholarship or corroborating need for financial assistance

Submit complete application package through the Operation Flight Commander no later than 31 March 2022. If you have any questions, contact Ms Trista Elmore, Program Assistant, at (205) 348-5900 or afrotc@ua.edu.
